

TECHNICAL MEMORANDUM

TO: CITY OF KALAMA
FROM: STACEY CLEAR, P.E
DATE: SEPTEMBER 26, 2024
SUBJECT: WATER SERVICE INVENTORY
CITY OF KALAMA, COWLITZ COUNTY,
WASHINGTON
G&O #24235.00

The following provides a discussion of how the City of Kalama's (City) preliminary water service inventory was created.

BACKGROUND

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) issued a Lead and Copper Rule Revision that went into effect on December 16, 2021. As part of this ruling, all public water system purveyors are required to prepare an inventory that classifies both the public and private portions of water service lines as the following.

- Lead
- Galvanized requiring replacement
- Non-lead
- Lead status unknown

Other required information includes property addresses and the basis of how the material was classified (historical record, install date, service size [i.e., greater than 4-inch], or field inspection). This inventory is due to the Washington State Department of Health (DOH) by October 16, 2024. In addition, any person served by a "lead," "galvanized requiring replacement," or "lead status unknown" type of service must be notified in writing within 30 days of completing the inventory. It is our understanding that if the City provides field investigation of a statistically-relevant, randomized subset of the "unknown" services on the inventory prior to October 16, 2024, and if the field investigations of this subset reveal "non-lead" services, the City can provide this documentation and claim all "unknown" services to be "non-lead." At that point, notification to Property Owners is not necessary; however, the City will need to provide a discussion of the investigation in the Consumer Confidence Report.

In light of this requirement, Gray & Osborne has provided services to assist the City in preparing the initial inventory and in providing information needed for Property Owner notification.

METHODOLOGY

In 1986, Washington State banned the use of lead plumbing. Therefore, any service lines installed after 1986 are not likely to be lead, and may be considered as such. Although this ban was promulgated in 1986, certain jurisdictions may have adopted policies or standards banning the use of lead service lines prior to 1986, in which case, all service lines installed after this earlier date may be considered to be “non-lead.”

Since the City is required to determine the construction material for service lines for both the public side (i.e., from the water main to the meter) and for the private side (from the meter to the building), identifying dates of all applicable lead use restrictions is critical. Table 1 lists the assumptions used for determining dates associated with both public and private service line installations.

TABLE 1

Service Material Classification Thresholds

	Threshold Date⁽¹⁾	Basis of Threshold
Public	1986	Washington State Law
Private	1986	Washington State Law

(1) Year that reflects potential lead service line prior to this date.

For this analysis, the date of installation for the public service line was assumed to be equal to the date of installation for the adjacent water main.

For this analysis, the date of installation for the private service line was assumed to be equal to the construction date for the structure(s) located on the property.

INFORMATION SOURCES

Public

The installation dates of water mains throughout the service area were provided from previous Plansets and were then color-coded within an existing GIS database/map to show which water mains were older than 1986. The City also provided water meter locations via their billing data. These locations were joined to parcel data within GIS to graphically-show which parcels are currently being served within the City.

Private

The dates of building structures for each property being served were determined from publicly-available County Assessor data, which was then joined to each parcel within GIS, to visually show which parcels contained structures that were older or newer than 1986.

SERVICE MATERIAL CLASSIFICATION

Using GIS, a circular symbol was added for each water service, and represents either the exact meter location or the parcel being served. The symbol layer includes water meter data such as the address/parcel number being served by that meter. The left side of the symbol represents the material of the private portion of the water service, whereas the right side of the symbol represents the public portion of the service.

These symbols were initially assigned the year of construction associated with the nearest water main (i.e., public side). In addition, using the address of the parcel being served, they were assigned the year of construction associated with the structure being served (i.e., private side). Using these dates, each symbol was then assigned a status color representing “non-lead” (blue) or “unknown” (gray) based on the dates shown in Table 1. An overview map was then generated (Figure 1).

RESULTS

Table 2 summarizes the results of the analysis previously described, and a full and complete inventory listing is provided in Appendix A.

TABLE 2

Water Service Inventory Summary

	Number of Services
Public “Unknown” Services	1,555
Private “Unknown” Services	1,019
Total “Unknown” Services ⁽¹⁾	1,699

(1) Includes total services where either the public or private side is “unknown.”

NEXT STEPS

Statistical Analysis

The DOH has provided guidance on a statistical analysis that can be completed which can be used to reclassify “unknown” service lines within the service area. As shown in Table 3, an entity may identify a statistically-significant subset of randomly-selected service lines for field investigation. The number of services which must be investigated through field verification is dependent on the number of “unknown” service lines remaining within the system after completion of the initial inventory.

Technical Memorandum – Water Service Inventory
September 26, 2024

The actual service lines chosen for field identification must be a true random selection, which is easily accomplished using the random function within Excel. If, after field investigation, all of the randomly-sampled service lines are determined to be “non-lead,” the City can then classify all remaining “unknown” lines as being “non-lead.”

There are currently 1,699 “unknown” service lines, resulting in 314 service lines that would need to be field-identified in order to change the classification of all “unknown” lines. Appendix B contains a list of the randomized selection of meters chosen for field identification. If certain service lines are unattainable in the field, a backup list of randomized meters is also provided. Staff would simply choose the first backup meter on the list as a substitute and would then return to the regularly-sorted list of services to continue with the field identification process.

Public Notice

It is highly recommended to provide field identification of select meters prior to October 16, if the City wants to avoid sending public notifications. If the City elects to forgo the field identification prior to October 16, 2024, the City must send notification letters to each Owner of an “unknown” service line within 30 days of completing the inventory. The letter is intended to have Property Owners provide self-identification of the water service material being used on the private side. A sample of this letter is included in Appendix C. It is our understanding that these letters will need to be sent on an annual basis until all unknown service lines are classified, either through a complete inventory, or via the statistical analysis method.

Alternatively, if the field investigation of the randomly-selected service lines is completed, and all are determined to be “non-lead,” the City only needs to discuss the results of their efforts within the annual Consumer Confidence Report (CCR).

SUMMARY OF KEY DELIVERABLES

The following provides a list of key deliverables related to the lead service line inventory.

- Lead Service Line Inventory – Due to the DOH by October 16, 2024.
- Field Investigation (at the City’s option) – No particular due date.
 - Once completed and if no lead services are found for the randomly-selected subset, all remaining “unknown” lines can be categorized as “non-lead.”

Technical Memorandum – Water Service Inventory
September 26, 2024

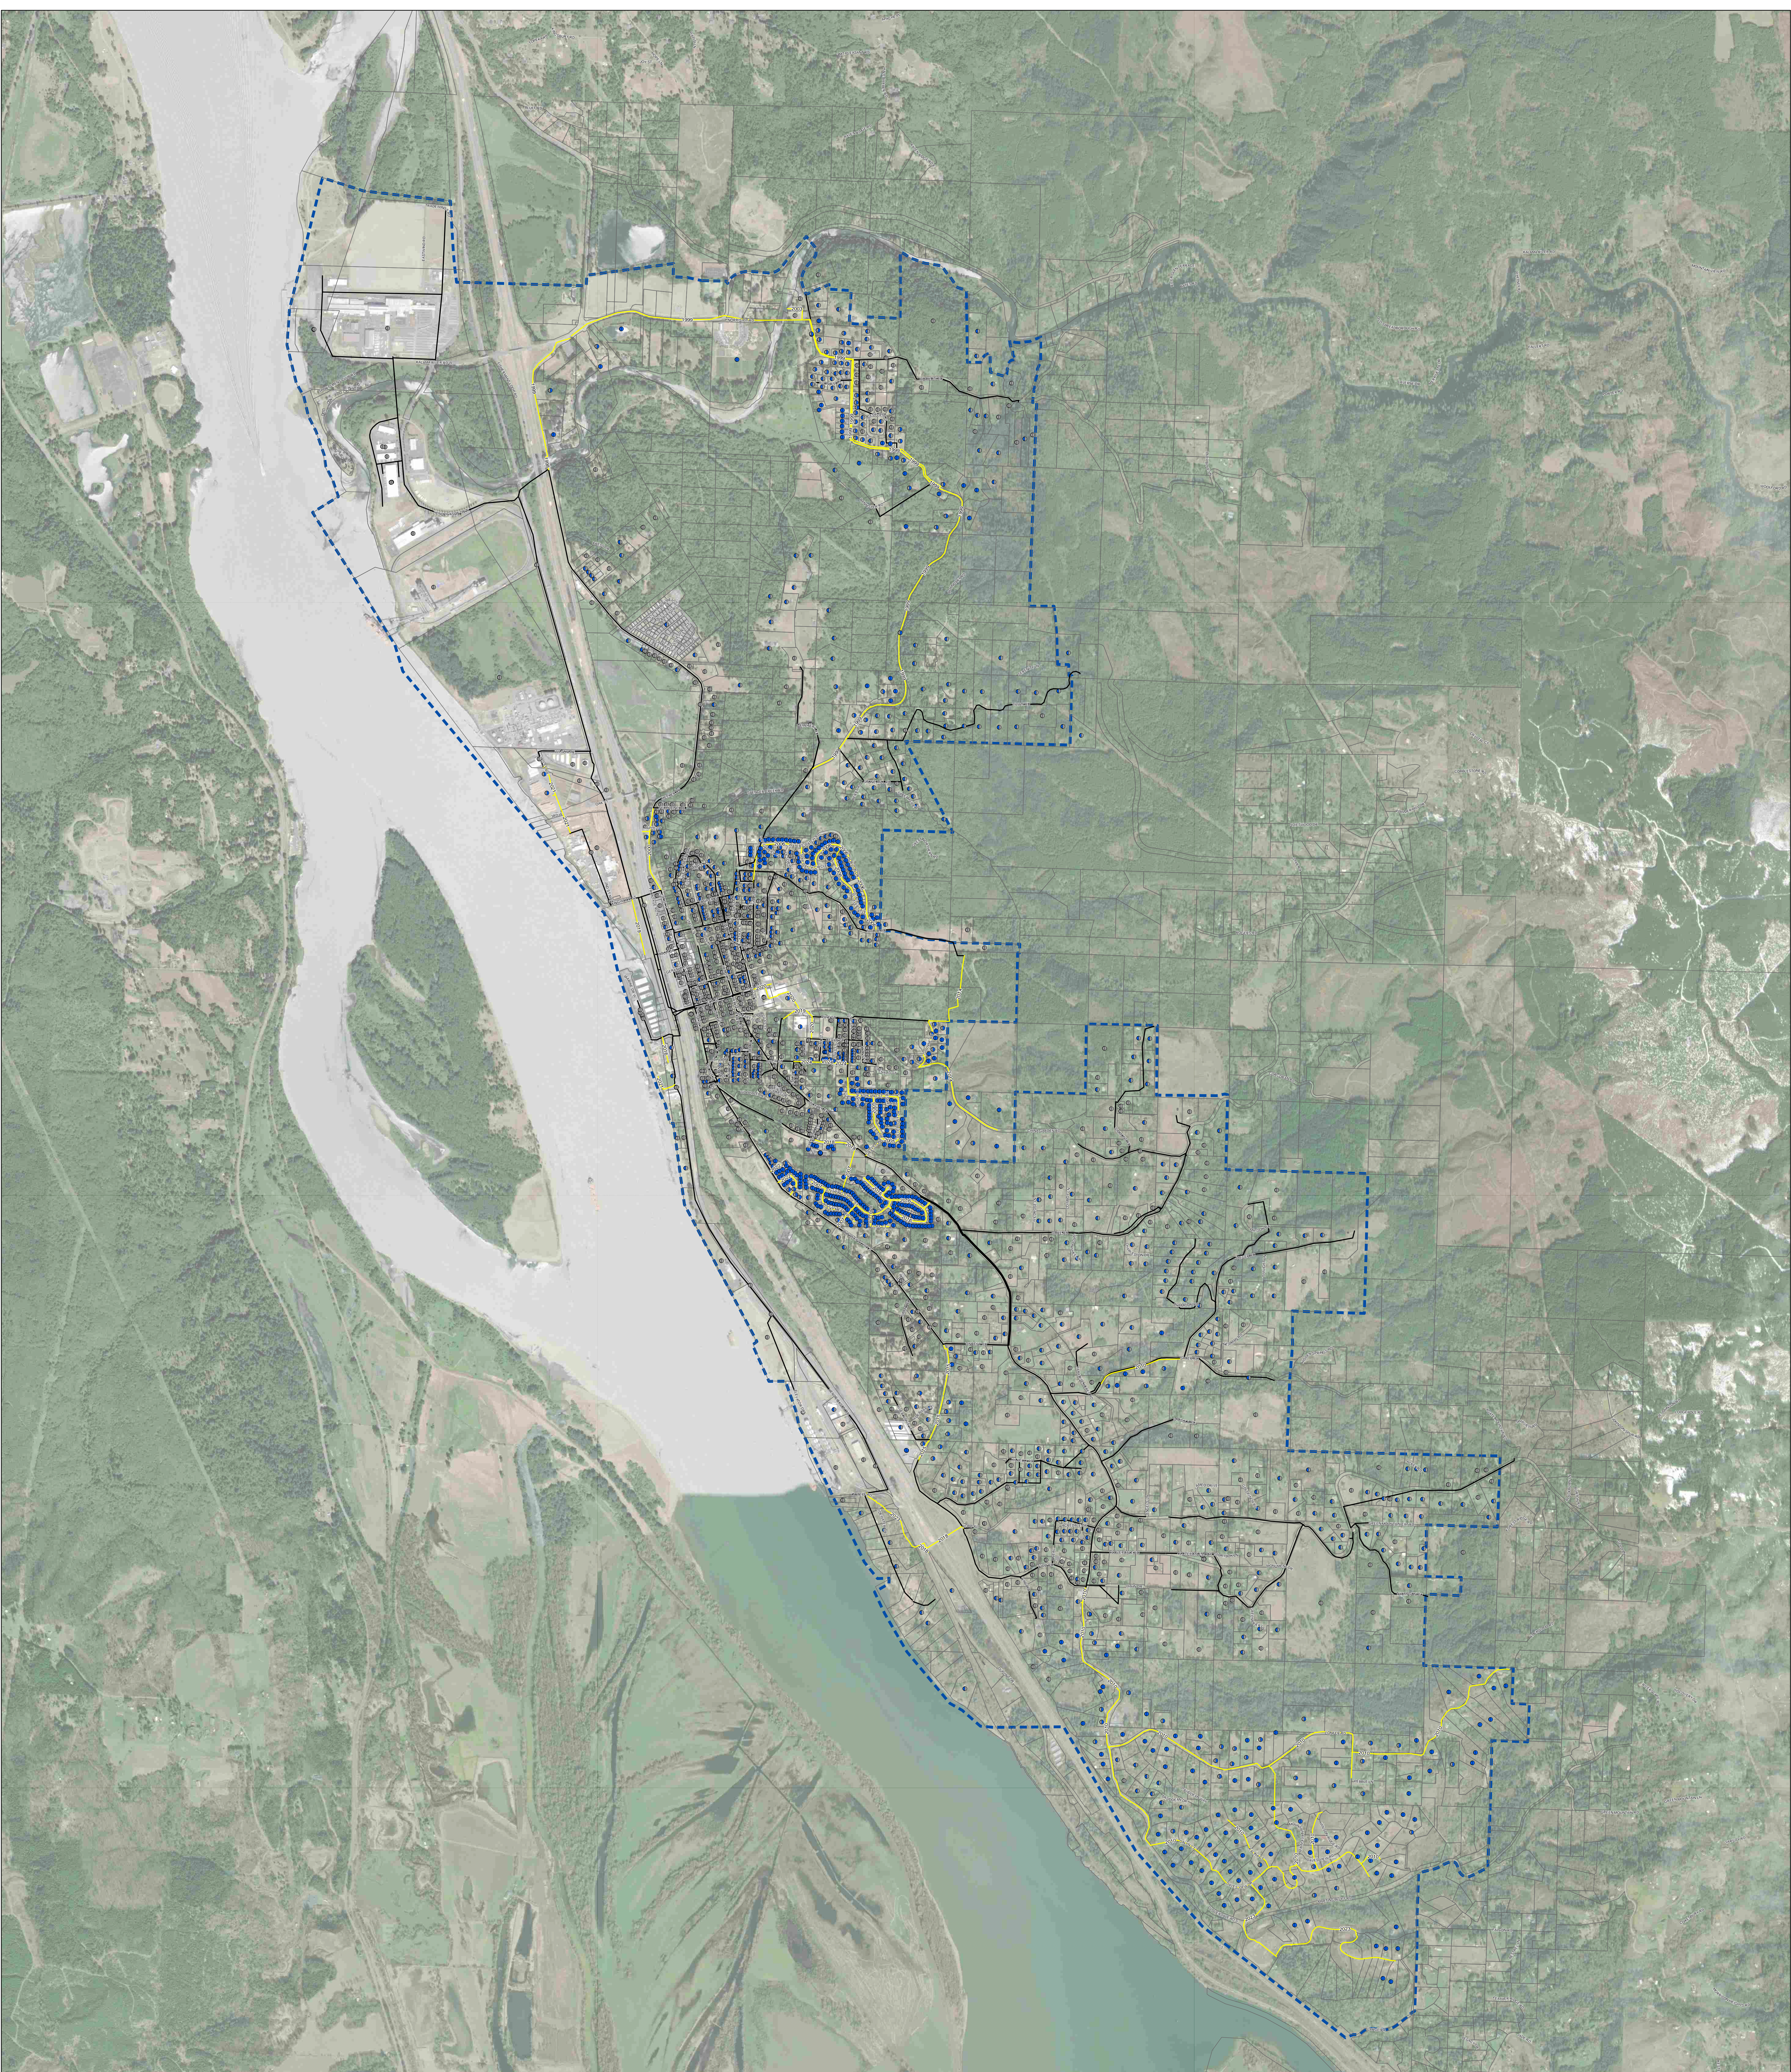

- If not completed, the City must continue to send annual notification to Property Owners of “unknown” services until all “unknown” lines are classified.
- Notification.
 - Property Owners – Due November 15, 2024/annually (if there are remaining “unknown” services).
 - If there are remaining “unknown” services and a field investigation has not been done by October 16, 2024, all Owners of an “unknown” service must be notified in writing by November 15, 2024 (i.e., within 30 days of completing the inventory).
 - If a field investigation has been done (at any time) and the remaining “unknown” services can all be classified as “non-lead,” notification to Property Owners is not necessary.
 - If a field investigation has been done (at any time) and if any of the remaining “unknown” services cannot be classified as “non-lead,” notification to Property Owners with an “unknown” line shall continue on an annual basis until all service lines can be classified.
 - Consumer Confidence Report – Due in the next annual report.
 - The City must discuss the results of the analysis in the next annual report.

Violation

If the City fails to complete the lead service line inventory by October 16, 2024, the State considers this action to be a treatment technique violation (health-based) and a Tier 2 public notice is required. If the inventory itself is not turned into the State by October 16, 2024, the State considers this to be a reporting violation and a Tier 3 public notice would then be required.

APPENDIX C

SAMPLE NOTIFICATION LETTER

October X, 2024

Subject: Customer survey to determine service line pipe materials

Dear Valued Customer,

Your public water system is committed to protecting your health when it comes to the harmful health effects lead pipes can have on you and your family. To reduce your risk of lead exposure, drinking water system providers are now required by law to determine the material of all service lines between the water main and the point of connection to a residence, business, or public use property. Since those pipes run on private property, we are requesting your help in determining what material your service line is made of by filling out our survey.

The drinking water pipes leading up to your home or business can be made of a variety of materials: copper, PVC plastic, galvanized metal, or lead. If your property's pipe is made from lead or galvanized metal that may have been exposed to lead, there is risk of lead corroding into your drinking water. If your property does have lead pipes or galvanized pipes that were once exposed to lead, then it is recommended that they are replaced following regulatory guidance to reduce lead exposure in your drinking water.

Customer Survey

Please help us determine your service line material by completing the enclosed survey and providing the required photo documentation. The survey is also available online via the QR code at the bottom of the page. If you need help completing the survey, please email [\[email address\]](#), call us at [\[number\]](#), or visit [\[website link\]](#) for additional information.

Please return the survey with accompanying photos as soon as possible via email to [\[email address\]](#), in person at the City office (195 N. 1st St., Kalama, WA 98625) between 7:30 a.m to 4 p.m., or online via the QR code below.

Additional Information

Please see the attached guidance on how to conduct the survey.

Customer Service Line Material Identification Guide

What are Water Service Lines and what materials could you have on your property?

A water service line is the pipe that carries water underground from a water main or well into a building. Water service lines can be made of a variety of materials: copper, plastic, galvanized or lead. The service line could also be a mix of several types, especially if repairs have been made to the line at different times in the building's history.

Who owns the water service lines?

The water utility owns the public pipes that lead up to the what the property title determines is a private water line. This is usually the property line or the connection at the individual water meter. The image below indicates what your water service line might look like and the points you may visually inspect to determine the materials of the water pipe.

Instructions on How to Determine your Pipe Material and Fill Out the Customer Survey

You may access this video guide on how to determine service line material in your premise: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PcO5FCE9Vfw>

1. Determine when your home was built and write it down in the survey.
Homes built before 1986 might have lead plumbing. You can search the county assessor's office records to look at your property records to determine the year your home was built.
2. Locate where your water pipe enters your building.
The incoming water service in your home may come up from the basement floor or out of a wall in the basement. If you have a crawlspace, the service line will likely come through the foundation wall. If your house is on a slab, it will come up through the main floor, typically in a utility closet or the garage.

3. Do a scratch test on the water pipe you have identified.
 - Use a key or coin to scratch the pipe close to where it enters the house through the wall or floor.
 - If the pipe is painted, gently sand or scrape the paint away first to expose the metal.
 - What color is the pipe underneath?
 - If it is shiny and orange like a penny, you do not have a lead service line in your home.
 - If the pipe is grey, you may have a lead service line.
 - Take a photo of the piping after completion of the scratch test.

4. Do a magnet test.
 - Hold a magnet to your pipe.
 - If a magnet will stick, you have a steel service line.
 - You may also have plastic pipe which may be red, blue, black, or white. The magnet will not stick.
 - If a magnet won't stick, and it is not obviously plastic, you may have a lead service line.

5. Use the chart below to determine the material.

What Does Your Service Line Look Like?

COPPER		Dull brown or greenish: A magnet will not stick to a copper pipe. Scratch the pipe with a screwdriver or coin. If the scraped area is copper in color, like a penny, your service line is copper.
GALVANIZED STEEL		Grey or silver: A magnet will stick to a galvanized steel service line. If you scratch the pipe, it will remain a dull gray.
Plastic		Red, blue, black, or white: A magnet will not stick to a plastic pipe. A scratch test is not needed.
Lead		Grey or silver: A magnet will not stick to a lead pipe. Scratch the pipe with a screwdriver or coin. If the scraped area is shiny silver and flakes off, the service line is lead.

Use this guide to identify what material your service line is made of.

6. Determine if you have a lead line.

- IF THE PIPE REVEALS A DULL SILVER-GRAY COLOR WHEN SCRATCHED, AND IT IS NOT MAGNETIC, THE PIPE IS LIKELY MADE OF LEAD.

7. If you are unable to use the above methods to determine the pipe material, here are some alternatives:

- Purchase an EPA-recognized lead swab kit online or at a home improvement store. These kits test the pipe material, not the water inside the pipes. Provide pictures of the plumbing line tested and color change results to your water provider.
- Ask a licensed plumber to inspect your pipes and determine the material type. Provide a copy of the inspection report to your water provider.
